THAW'S HATRED OF WHITE IS MOTIVE, JEROME DECLARES

Admits Everything Charged Against Murdered Man. But Says Thaw Was Sane.

Tells Jury Defense Has Not Established Case.

FLIRTATION HIS REVOLVER

New York, Jan. 30.—Two thousand persons failed to secure entrance into the court room, where Jerome began presenting the prosecution's side in the Thaw case to the jury. Police worked hard to control the struggling mass.

Jerome contended that the burden thrown on the defense of showing Thaw to be insane hasn't been sustained.

Jerome, flourishing the pistol Thaw used, said: "He shot calmly and deliberately, fully realizing what he was doing, and as soon as he fired the fatal shot he broke the revolver that all could see the shooting was over."

Jerome demanded Thaw's life. He admitted he believed Thaw wronged Evelyn in a manner no man could be expected to forgive, but he denounced Thaw as a murderer, who slew not to revenge his wronged wife but to satisfy a deep-seated hatred and undying grudge against a man, who had branded him a degenerate dope fiend, and he ridiculed the insanity plea.

The jury will be charged tomorrow morning briefly. The case will be in the jurors' hands by 11:30 o'clock.

BUTCHERS WALKING ON CONCRETE FLOOR

Butchers on the market are walking on the cold, hard concrete floor today, although some are padding up and down on boards pinned on the floor. The orders of the board of public works to Market Master Bell, to remove the shavings have been complied with, and yesterday afternoon the job was completed much to the dissatisfaction of the butchers. However, they are optimistic, and with a twinkle in his eye, one butcher said he would have the shavings back Monday. The hope of the butchers lies in the new board of public works; but Mayor Smith is against the shavings, and a butcher said this morning "I would put the shavings back right away if the others would too, but when Mayor Smith is against anything he means business."

WALKER HELD OVER TO GRAND JURY IN DETENTION CASE

Sam Walker, the aged man charged with detaining a girl against her will, was held over to the grand jury in police court and his bond fixed at $300. It is understood that the ship caulkers will go on Walker's bond. The only evidence besides the testimony of the defendant and plaintiff was one witness, who saw Gertrude Bell and Walker together. Walker's statement was that the girl stopped him and asked for a chew of tobacco, and that he passed on. The girl admitted chewing tobacco but said Walker overtook her, and made improper proposals to her.

Other cases on the docket were: Drunkenness—John Deynolds, $1 and costs. Disorderly conduct—Ollie, alias Milburn Cooper, dismissed. Using insulting language—John Dawson, $5 and costs.

Rumor at Washington That Taft Has Resigned From Cabinet is Not Admitted in White House Circles.

Aldrich Bill as Adopted by Senate Finance Committee Introduced This Morning—Gompers Before Committee.

Washington, Jan. 30.—It is rumored here with great persistence that Secretary Taft has placed his resignation in the hands of the president, and will soon withdraw from the cabinet to take active charge of his campaign for the presidency.

This report is denied in the White House, and Secretary Taft is out of the city.

Wants Income Tax.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, introduced a joint resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution so as to give congress power to levy an income tax, either graduated or otherwise.

Gompers Makes Address.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was an impromptu speaker before the house committee on banking and currency at a hearing of the currency question.

Mr. Gompers was asked whether the working people of the country had suffered much as a result of the financial disturbance. "Yes," he said, "we have suffered greatly by the closing down of industrial plants and the reduction of working forces."

He was, however, unable to state the percentage of unemployed as a result of these conditions. He asserted that the country was greatly helped in the crisis "by the firm attitude taken by labor unions against wage reductions, because yielding to reduction in times of financial and industrial depression simply reduces the general power of consumption and increases rather than lightens the trouble."

Aldrich Bill.
Washington, Jan. 30.—The Aldrich financial bill as agreed upon by the senate committee, was reported to the senate today.

Bryan Denies.
Washington, Jan. 30.—Bryan today denied he said anything that could possibly be interpreted as an unreserved endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt's ideas as to the country's needs.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Walton in the Empire parlors.

Drillers Strike Second Stratum of Solid Rock After Passing Through Blue Clay at Grand Rivers.

Operations are proceeding with success at Grand Rivers, where the Hillman Land company, of St. Louis, is sinking a well in anticipation of striking oil or gas. The well has been bored to a depth of 233 feet, but another layer of hard rock has been struck and the drilling does not proceed so rapidly. Several weeks ago the drill was broken on a hard layer of rock, and it was repaired in this city. This layer has been drilled through, and the drill has gone through a layer of hard blue clay, but this has been pierced and now the drill is working on solid rock again.

If the five wells are sunk in vain, and a small evidence of oil or gas is had, the operators will "shoot" one of the wells. Into the well at a depth of 3,300 feet will be dropped 40 quarts of nitroglycerine, which is enough at that depth and pressure of the earth to tear up the earth for a half mile. It is expected when the liquid strikes the bottom of the well and explodes the concussion may be felt in Paducah, which is about 26 miles from the deserted city of Grand Rivers.

Already the concussion of the drill on the rock is felt at a distance of a quarter of a mile. Mr. E. H. Simon.

WRESTLING CHAMPION

London, Jan. 30.—Jack Hackenschmidt easily defeated Joe Rogers, (America), today for the world's catch-as-catch-can championship.

PACKET MANAGER GOING ON STAGE IN LEADING ROLE

The Paducah office of the Chattanooga Packet company has received notice of the resignation of Mr. E. C. Rigg, traffic manager for the company. Mr. Rigg is well known in Paducah among the business and river men, and until several weeks ago made regular weekly trips to this city. His resignation will become effective Saturday. As traffic manager for the packet company Mr. Rigg has arranged all the rates of the company and has been responsible largely for the efficient service of the packet company.

Mr. Rigg held a high position on the stage before his health gave way, and he was compelled to enter commercial lines. For several years he played with Lewis Morrison in the production of "Faust," and Mr. Rigg always filled the leading role, when Mr. Morrison was indisposed. Mr. Rigg started for several seasons in "David Crockett" and made a hit. He will leave Chattanooga, the headquarters of the company, in a short while and go to Toronto, where he will be the star in a production that will open in March.

It is said by Mr. Rigg's close friends, who have known of his resignation sometime, that he will have the star role in a large production which will open in New York next season.

Deposit Guaranty Dead.

Topeka, Jan. 30.—The governor today sent to the legislature a special message, making a final appeal for the passage of the administration deposit guaranty bill, but it is ineffectual as all the administration guaranty bills are dead.

MAY WITHDRAW TROOPS

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Nixon, of Nevada, advised the president that the new state constabulary is being organized and federal troops can be removed within three weeks.

NIGHT RIDERS SUSPECTED

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 30. (Special.)—Two big barns of W. E. Wall near Fredonia this county, were burned. There was no tobacco in them. Night riders are suspected.

WILL SHOOT WELL AT DEPTH OF 3,300 FEET UNLESS OIL IS STRUCK SOONER

the superintendent, is encouraged over the prospect. Oil that was struck at a depth of 800 feet on the same ridge 6 1/2 miles from Grand Rivers, does not flow with sufficient strength to be valued at much, but going to a depth of 3,300 feet and with "shoot-lug" the well will bring oil if there is any there.

SUFFRAGETTES AGAIN

London, Jan. 30.—Suffragettes swooped down just at daylight on the homes of five cabinet members and tried to batter their way into the houses. They finally were scattered after scuffles with the police.

WEATHER.

CLOUDY

Increasing cloudiness tonight, probably followed by rain or snow Friday. Rising temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 30; lowest today, 16.

LITTLE BOY SHOT SISTER PLAYING HIGHWAY ROBBER

Terrible Tragedy at Farmington Graves County, at Home of Mrs. Hugh Hendley.

MORE NIGHT RIDER NOTICES

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 30.—Pat Crawford, aged 7, today, while playing with his sister, aged 5, accidentally blew her head off with a shotgun at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Hugh Hendley, near Farmington. The children were playing robbers and the boy ran out of the door with the gun and met his sister when the accident occurred.

Night Rider Notices.

In spite of the protestations of residents living near the junction of the Calloway, Marshall and Graves county lines that the section is free from "night riders" the report comes that notices are being posted on the roads in the neighborhood.

It was near there, at Jackson's schoolhouse, that two farmers received notices at a Christmas tree, the celebration ending in a small sized riot.

The notices are printed on paper with a lead pencil and read as follows:

"We have come to tell you that all that has sold their tobacco had better not deliver it. We are watching you all. If you take it off you will think hell has overtaken you. There is 468 riders in 8 miles of Kirskey. It's no boy's work. It is Man's. It is talked all over the county that it is boy's work. You will think 'boys' if we come after you. Now friends, we are working for your interests as well as ours."

Signed NIGHT RIDERS.

"Please don't take this down." Because of the recent notices which have been received by farmers who live on the west side of the Tennessee river and the consequent scare in Marshall county, the farmers around the junction of Marshall, Graves and Calloway counties are getting a bit nervous.

POSTOFFICES TO BE FILLED IN TWO DISTRICTS SOON

Many First and Second district Republicans are watching Washington to learn their fate in regard to appointments for appointment to postoffices, and especially in the Second district is this true; for several terms there have expired many weeks. Among the offices to be filled are those at Burlington, Hopkinsville, Morganfield, Pembroke, Sturgis and Uniontown.

Word is expected soon, announcing appointments to the offices at Cadiz and Paducah, which recently were raised from the fourth to the third class. It is expected that George P. Thomas will be reappointed at Cadiz and T. T. Minnery at Paducah.

A private letter received here from Hartford, gives assurance that at the Fourth district is solid for Taft.

Cullom Reports Bill Providing for Participation of U. S.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Cullom today reported from the senate committee on foreign relations a bill providing for participation by the United States in the Japanese international exposition at Tokio in 1912. The bill authorizes the president to appoint commissioners to have power to make rules concerning contributions from the United States and fixing salaries for such committee.

Old Board Retires February 1 and New Board Will Not Assume Duties Until February 4—The Reason.

For three days next week Paducah will have no board of public works. The old board resigned, effective February 1, and the new board, composed of E. W. Katterjohn, Richard Rudy and L. F. Kolb, Jr., will not be installed until February 4. It was found that the original board was appointed from February 4, and since then the members have been filling unexpired terms. If the new members assumed their duties February 1, they would do so as filling the unexpired term of the old board for three days, when they would have to be reorganized. To save this trouble, in view of the fact that there is nothing of importance pending just now, the hiatus was suffered, and the new board will start on its appointed day. It will meet February 4 and organize by electing a president and clerk, the latter position naturally falling to City Auditor Alex Kirkland, and a street inspector. E. E. Bell has been mentioned in this connection, but it is not known whether he would accept.

NO SALES SINCE MONDAY

No sales of association tobacco have been made at the Paducah sales room since Monday, though the salesmen expect other sales before the week is gone. Reports from Murray are that 21 hogheads have been sold on that market, one being sold to a Murray manufacturer, while 20 were sold to a Clarksville firm. Mayfield also reports small sales.

Pensions for Police and Firemen of Second Class Cities Provided in Bill That Was Passed Today.

COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS ON THIRD DISTRICT

Deputy County Clerk Walter Smedley has turned over a number of notices of raises made on the assessments of property owners by the board of supervisors to the sheriff to be served. The taxpayers are given notice that the supervisors will be in session from February 17 to February 27 to hear any one who desires to show reasons why such raises should not be made. The supervisors are now working on the assessment in the Third district which is the largest and most important in the county, and includes the business section of the city.

Indications are that the total raises will be several hundred thousand dollars. The last assessment was $12,372,445.

GRADE IS BEING RAISED ALONG SECOND STREET.

The grade is being raised on Second street on the west side of the market house. Since the brick street was constructed it has not given satisfaction in draining water. The contractor took up the bricks in several places and raised the grade, but relief from the water was not secured, and the bricks have been taken up for some distance and raised to the proper height.

MRS. GLAUBER'S FUNERAL

The funeral service of Mrs. Natalia S. Glauber will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The burial will be at Mt. Carmel cemetery.

FORTY NEW PUPILS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Accommodations for the recruits to the High school will be sufficient and the crowded condition of the school of last year will be avoided. It is estimated between 40 and 45 pupils will be promoted from the eighth grade to the High school, and this will bring the enrollment over 290 students. Last summer about 290 of the opera chairs were placed in the auditorium, to avoid a repetition of the confusion last year. The chairs, while they do not occupy the same space a desk does, have not proved satisfactory to the teachers, more than to relieve the crowded condition.

NO BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS WILL EXIST FOR THREE DAYS NEXT WEEK IN PADUCAH

For three days next week Paducah will have no board of public works. The old board resigned, effective February 1, and the new board, composed of E. W. Katterjohn, Richard Rudy and L. F. Kolb, Jr., will not be installed until February 4. It was found that the original board was appointed from February 4, and since then the members have been filling unexpired terms. Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30. (Special.)—The committee on municipalities approved the house bill to pension policemen and firemen in second class cities.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30. (Special.)—The bill providing for the examination of trained nurses passed.

On Joint Ballot.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30. (Special.)—The joint ballot was: Beckham, 53; Bradley, 67; Allen, 7. There were 123 present, 62 necessary to election. Hopkins voted for Beckham.

Admission to Bar.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30. (Special.)—Representative Milliken introduced a bill giving power to the court of appeals to name three examiners at $200 per year each to examine candidates for admission to the bar in this state, the court of appeals to suggest questions and each applicant for examination to pay a fee of $10.

Representative Waggoner introduced a bill to prevent growers from raising over 4 acres of tobacco for every 100 acres without license.

CARNIVAL COMPANY IS INCORPORATED TODAY.

Articles of incorporation of the Western Kentucky Amusement company, a corporation organized for the purpose of promoting and giving all forms of lawful amusements and excursions, were filed in the county clerk's office this afternoon. The company has a capital stock of $200, divided into four shares of $50 each and held by L. A. Lagomarsino, G. R. Davis, Will Farley and Rodney Davis. Besides promoting other amusements the company expects to give a carnival in the spring.

BURNING KIMONO WRAPS WOMAN ABOUT WITH FIRE.

Grahamville, Jan. 30. (Special.)—By presence of mind Mrs. Maggie Crawford jerked off a burning kimono last night after lighting the lamp and saved herself probably from serious burns. Mrs. Crawford lighted the lamp and threw the match to the floor, but it struck the kimono she was wearing, and instantly she was in a mass of flames. Mrs. Crawford jerked the burning garment off, and she was not touched by the flames.

TWO HOPTOWN COUPLES MARRIED IN THIS CITY.

James L. Major and his sister, Willie, and McK. Mabry and his sister came to Paducah from Hopkinsville today and the four went to the court house to procure licenses, so each young man could marry the other's sister. McK. Mabry and Willie Majors are under age and were refused a license. Appeal to Miss Major's father by long distance telephone was vain, until she threatened to go to Metropolis. Then he gave in and the licenses were procured.

BLACKWOOD DIDN'T SHOW SPEED LAST SUMMER--- SUES

Suit has been filed in circuit court by Ben T. Frank against the West Kentucky Stock Farm, in which it is alleged that the race horse, Blackwood, the plaintiff bought from H. B. Sherrill and V. J. Blow, proprietors of the farm, did not come up to the standard guaranteed when the sale was made and he asks that the defendant be enjoined from enforcing a mortgage given on some real estate to secure the deferred payment of $1,000. Frank alleges that the parties from whom he bought the horse represented that the animal had a track record of 2:10 and had won 14 out of 17 races in which he had been entered, but that it developed that the horse's record was 2:13 1/2 and had lost 6 out of the 8 races he entered. In addition to enjoining the defendant from collecting the $1,000 secured by mortgage, Frank seeks to recover $1,000 which was paid at the time the sale was made and also $2,000 loss which he is alleged to have sustained during the past racing season by entering his horse in races, which he failed to win.

F. L. SCOTT

NOT IN CONFLICT WITH GROWERS

Statement of American Tobacco Company.

Small Buyer in Dark Fied District and Denies Combination With Other Purchasers.

BOOKS OFFERED AS PROOF

New York, Jan. 30.—Relative to the recent disturbances in Kentucky the American Tobacco company has issued the following statement:

"In Kentucky there are several distinct types of tobacco grown—Burley tobacco, Green River tobacco and dark-fired tobacco. The American Tobacco company uses 60 per cent of the total production of the Burley tobacco. It uses large quantities of Green river tobacco, perhaps a third of the total production. Of the dark-fired tobacco it uses substantially none, but the American Snuff company, in which the American Tobacco company owns stock, uses about 15 per cent of the total production."

Disorderly Only in Dark District.

"There has been disorder in Kentucky in the Burley tobacco-growing section; there has been very little in the Green river section; but the disorder has been in the dark-fired section of Kentucky and Tennessee, at Hopkinsville, Russellville, Clarksville and other points. This dark-fired tobacco is bought principally by buyers representing the tobacco manufacturing government monopolies of Italy, France and Spain, but to some extent by the American Snuff company and to some extent by the Imperial Tobacco company of Great Britain."

No Alliance With Others.

"The affairs of the American Tobacco company, the Imperial Tobacco company and American Snuff company have been under government investigation for more than two years. The department of commerce and labor has had access to all the books and papers of these companies; employees and officers of these companies have been before grand juries and equity examiners. The fullest possible examination has been made by all these agencies into all the private and public letter books and other papers of these companies, and if there had existed any combination of buyers in this it would have been disclosed. No interest in any way connected or allied with the American Tobacco company is in common with any other buying interests."

Not in a War.

Where disorder has occurred the so-called tobacco trust is the smallest factor in the purchase of tobacco. The prices now being paid for leaf tobacco in Kentucky and elsewhere are higher than ten years ago."

Not Its Interest to Depress Prices.

"The hand on which tobacco is grown can be used to grow other crops. Burley tobacco is grown on the famous bluegrass lands, the Virginia leaf is largely grown on land well adapted to the growing of cotton. It is inconceivable that the so-called tobacco trust, even if it had a monopoly in the purchase of tobacco, which it has not, not being the purchaser directly or indirectly of half the tobacco produced in the United States, would attempt to depress the price of leaf and thus drive the farmers to these other crops."

CLEANLY WOMAN

Erroneously Thinks It Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.—W. B. McPherson, Special Agent.

ART EXHIBIT

WILL BE HELD IN LATER PROPERITY, FIFTH AND BROADWAY.

Teachers Busy Today With Examination Papers at Their Homes—Promotion Day.

Permission has been given Superintendent Carnagey to use the old 120th residence, Fifth and Broadway, for the exhibit of the Turner pictures which will be exhibited, March 25-26. A small admission fee will be charged and all over the expenses for the entertainment will be used for the purchase of copies of famous old masterpieces for the school rooms.

The pictures are sent out by the Horace K. Turner company of Boston, and is one of the largest traveling art exhibits. Pamphlets have been sent Professor Carnagey which explain the pictures, and also contain something of the life of the painter. This knowledge of the picture will be of great assistance to the pupils in understanding the real beauty and meaning of the works of art.

Many patrons called on Superintendent Carnagey today, and secured entrance cards for the young children to enter school next Monday. A large number of new pupils will enter the schools.

The last examination was finished yesterday afternoon, and today the teachers are hard at work. Owing to there being no heat in the buildings, most of the teachers are at home with their work. Tomorrow afternoon the grades will be given to the pupils, who will report to their rooms at 2:30 o'clock.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Du Barry."

The visit of Mrs. Leslie Carter, the great emotional actress, tomorrow night should prove the dramatic treat of the season. The appearance of this artist in any of the great capitals of the world becomes an event. Mrs. Carter will be seen here as Du Barry, a role which gives her the widest scope for the expression of her dramatic genius. Her appearance in this great play, following her extraordinary success in "Zaza" proved to be one of the most pronounced dramatic triumphs of modern times. Du Barry gave Mrs. Carter an even wider scope for her art, and she reached heights of emotional expression that had not heretofore been revealed. No other actress, with the exception of Madame Bernhardt, has come within hailing distance of Mrs. Carter in the extraordinary variety of her powers. In Du Barry she is seen at her best—her very best—which more than mere words of encomium can express.

NEED MERCHANT MARINE IN U. S.

As Auxiliary to Navy—Principal Topic in House.

Republicans Held Responsible for Condition—Report of Corley to Resolution.

SENATE DISCUSSED YESTERDAY

Washington, Jan. 30.—The need of an American merchant marine as an auxiliary to the navy, formed the principal topic of discussion in the house during consideration of the urgent deficiency appropriation bill.

The debate was precipitated by Littlefield, of Maine, who questioned the legality of the provision of the bill appropriating $1,000,000 to supply the deficiency for coal for the navy caused by the transfer of the battleship fleet to the Pacific. He criticized congress for its failure to make appropriations for a merchant marine.

His remarks elicited from Fitzgerald, of New York, the charge that the Republican party was responsible for that condition while Sherman, of Kentucky, maintained that the lack of a merchant marine was "a national disgrace" and was due to Republican policies.

The senate was entertained by a series of animated comments on the method adopted by Secretary Corley in placing before the senate his reply to the resolution calling for information relative to the operations of treasury department in connection with the financial disturbance.

The secretary had had the introductory part of his reply printed and copies of the pamphlet were on the desk of all senators, which was declared by the Democratic senators to be without precedent.

The general pension bill, which, if ratified, will increase the pension roll by about $12,000,000, was introduced in the house today by Chairman Sulloway, of New Hampshire, of the committee on invalid pensions. The bill, which has the support of that committee, provides for the payment of a pension of $12 a month, instead of $8 as at present, to all widows of the veterans of the Mexican, Indian, civil and Spanish wars.

A recent report sent out from Washington, D. C., to the various Ohio river engineers by the supervising inspector general, strongly advocates the licensing of all engineers of gasoline boats, whether the boats they operate carry passengers for hire or are merely run for pleasure, as this will probably lessen the number of accidents in gaining experienced operators. During the past few years the number of gasoline yachts and craft of various descriptions which have appeared on the inland waters, especially on the Ohio river, has been surprising, and on this account the license.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID M'KINLEY

By Speakers at Memorial Banquet in Cleveland.

Speakers Talk of Country's Growth Under McKinley's Administration.

TAFT WAS GUEST OF HONOR

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—McKinley, martyred president, was the keynote of several addresses delivered at the "Appreciation Club's" annual McKinley Day banquet here last night at which Secretary Taft was the guest of honor. The secretary spoke on "The Republic." All speakers continued their remarks to the life and deeds of McKinley, who was eulogized as the illustrious son of Ohio, and discussion of problems engendered by the Spanish-American war and the acquisition of the Philippines and islands of the Caribbean Sea.

The banquet was preceded by a public reception at the Chamber of Commerce hall. Men prominent in politics from Cleveland and all parts of the state and a few prominent in national affairs were in attendance. At the banquet Taft was introduced by the president of the "Appreciation Club," the next president of the United States. The speaking that followed was long and continued. Taft continued himself to the eulogy of McKinley and the solution of problems brought about by the war with Spain during the McKinley administration. Taft spoke in part as follows:

"Those of us who look back to McKinley's administration find it difficult to separate from his administration the great battle for honest money and for integrity of the nation's pledged faith with which his administration was ushered in. Conditions surrounding that controversy make it one of the most remarkable victories for popular government ever achieved."

"With the undoubted majority of the electorate embracing many of both parties, lured to the support of free coinage of silver by the sophistical arguments of pseudo scientists, and by the severe stress of the most grievous industrial depression, a change was effected and the majority of the voters were ultimately made, by a hard educational campaign, to see the right and forever stamp out the heresy that debt may be honestly paid by rendering to the creditor a little more than half of that in real value which he loaned his debtor."

"But while this was the most important result in the history of the country it was rather an electoral victory than one of the administration of McKinley. That which really distinguishes the administration of McKinley is the war with Spain and the expansion which followed it."

Taft here entered upon a lengthy discussion of our island possessions and our right to govern other people. This right he claimed that we have always exercised under the constitution by federal government and control of territories, a right that has always met the approval of the states of the union.

"If we assume control over a people merely in spirit of conquest and merely to extend our control and merely from lust of power," he said, "then we may be properly denounced as imperialists; but if we assume control over people for the benefit of that people and with the purpose of developing them to self-governing capacity, and with the intention of giving them the right to become independent when they shall show themselves fit, then the charge that we are imperialists is utterly without foundation."

Services in Washington.
Washington, Jan. 30.—Services commemorative of the anniversary of the birth of William McKinley were held here at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church under the auspices of the United States Historical society. Former Senator Thurston of Nebraska, spoke of McKinley the Man, Christian, Soldier and Statesman, and William E. Andrews, auditor of the treasury, delivered an address on the life and services of William McKinley.

At Canton, Ohio.
Canton, O., Jan. 30.—"Carnation Day," the anniversary of the birth of President McKinley, was generally observed in Canton. Memorial exercises were held in the public schools and under the auspices of several societies. A large number of handsome wreaths were received and deposited at the McKinley tomb, among the senders being President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Cullerton and former Governor Herrick.

"I suppose you studied the United States constitution?"
"Of course," answered the statesman of highly modern tendencies. "I have been obliged to study the constitution in order to point out reasons for not paying any particular attention to it."—Washington Star.

No. 170—Burnham—Act redistricting the house of representative districts.

An Elective Monarch.

A million men have died to preserve the constitution as it is; but Providence has passed no law exempting Americans from the pressure of events or the operation of necessities. They will have to accept them, willingly or unwillingly, and will gradually find that the only effect of the changes is to make their choice of a president and therefore of his cabinet for cabinet ministers in America are legally only clerks—more and more a matter of vital importance.

The president of the United States will in no long period of time be the greatest elective monarch history has ever known.—London Spectator.

TOBACCO BILL

WHAT MCHORD MEASURE JUST APPROVED, MEANS.

Police Powers of State in Hands of Tobacco Interests Under Agriculture Board.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—Friends of the tobacco growers feel that a long step in the way of legislation favorable to their interests was taken when the committee on agriculture unanimously agreed to make a favorable report on the bill of Representative W. C. McChord, which practically places the police powers of the state in charge of the tobacco interests.

In order to do this, the tobacco industry as provided by the bill comes directly under the commissioner of agriculture, who through an assistant to be named for this purpose will deal directly with the growers, buyers, manufacturers, etc.

To defray the expense of this supervision, a tax of 10 cents per 1,000 pounds of tobacco sold for the purpose of manufacture is provided. A few amendments suggested by McChord have been adopted.

In speaking of this bill Mr. McChord said that it was aimed to follow the lead of New York and other states which go on, the theory that monopolies cannot be properly dealt with in the usual way but that legislation which permits the authorities to deal with them in a summary way is necessary. Daily Thought.

Love always wins, because it is not afraid to lose.

We conclude from the evidence of various doctors, nurses and friends,
who testified as to Harry Thaw's peculiar kind of insanity, that he began drinking at an early age, and kept pretty drunk until sent to Sing Sing.
Those nervous spells remind us
strangely of "whisky shakes."

School elections should be on a date different from that of the general election and at times outside a political campaign. Nomination of school trustees at the tail end of a convention or in a primary, in which much trading must be done, militates
against care in selecting the ticket.
We can't always be so fortunate as we were the last time.

GRAFT THAT KILLS.

Most graft is wicked at. A man must take care of his friends, you know. When a man on an official board turns a public contract over to one, who has some claim on him, it is but natural. After all, what counts if friendship doesn't? Some times, maybe more often than not, a public inspector puts in a good word for the person, whose influence aided him in getting the place. Quite often he sets his place with the tact understanding that he is to use it to the advantage of some particular person.
Those, who are in the power of the inspector, soon learn what his graft is, and they are fast to turn it to their own account. What of it? Don't we generally expect it?

Nothing is thought of the thrifty habits of our officials, who make a little stake for themselves on the side—until something dreadful happens as the result of this graft, and then we realize the full enormity of the offense. The Rhinoceros opera house, in the little Dutch village of Boyertown, Pa., was destroyed by fire, January 13, and 169 persons lost their lives in a panic caused by insufficient exits. The theater was on the second floor. An investigation was held and the owner testified that, although means of escape were apparently insufficient and aisles were allowed to be blocked, and the ticket office checked the entrance, the inspector
"passed" the theater on condition that the owner buy fire escapes of a
"reading man."

The inspector won't be hanged.
Neither will the owner. They have suddenly been swept into the murder class from petty pilferers, and of the worst type of murderers, those who killed innocent people for money.

Grafters will continue, perhaps, as they have persisted, on the plea of friendship; but the men of Boyertown, who winked at the system, and have lost loved ones as the result of
it, may regard "taking care of one's friends" in public office, in a different light, since the high fire.

PUBLIC OPINION IN POLITICS.

In describing the end of the contest
in Ohio between Foraker and Dick's machine and Secretary of War Taft, Walter Welles, writing from Columbus, says:

"The peculiarity of the whole thing is that the man who had a machine, no organization, no political men, and who is, in fact, the one of the

est politicians in the world, has completely overthrown, horse, hoof and dragons, one of the keenest and ablest political leaders in the country,
backed by one of the best machines in the country.

"One of Senator Foraker's closest friends and lieutenants told me, almost with tears in his eyes, that the Taft business had completely overrun the state. 'When the senator came back from Washington last spring,' he said, 'it was with the belief that the Taft business was all wind, and that it would fade away in a few weeks.'
He thought a majority of his remaining friends would stand true. But just then public opinion began asserting itself. For some unaccountable reason the people appear to have gone mad over Taft. They will not listen to anything else. Day after day our friends have been coming here to our office, or writing in, that they can stand out no longer; that the tide is running too strong; that they must save themselves. In this way Senator Foraker has seen his whole organization go to pieces."

It is the new kind of politics—the kind that carries every issue straight to the people, that arouses public opinion, and, instead of relying on pretext hordes to carry out the will of a machine, relies on the force behind the popular movement to drive
the politicians to obey the people.
There is one condition precedent to the success of such politics, one must be right. No demagogue can use it.
It was found in Ohio that among the people of the party, the popularity of Roosevelt was the origin of the movement, and it proved irresistible.
Politicians in other states will be watched that. Roosevelt is for Taft.
Roosevelt has been carrying on the fight of the people against the interests. If Roosevelt is for Taft, it is because Roosevelt thinks Taft the man best suited to continue the administration's policies, and Roosevelt is in the best position to know. It is logical: If Roosevelt's enemies are to be Taft's enemies, then Roosevelt's friends should be Taft's friends.

SLIGHTLY HUMOROUS.

The Reason Why.
Some live to love
And some to hate—
Some folks are prompt
While some are late.
Some live to laugh,
And some to cry;
Some simply wait
Their time to die.
Some live for war,
And some for peace,
While some live but
To take their ease.
Some live to take,
And some to give;
Some live to eat,
Some eat to live.
Some live to rule,
Some to obey;
Some live to work,
And some for play.
But I live for no other reason Than the opening of the baseball season.

saw a light in his window until 2 o'clock this morning. At 7 o'clock we broke in, and he was gone."
"He must have got wind of our plan.
Send deputies aboard the Santa Maria.
Search her from keel to topmast, and have them watch the beach close or he'll put off in a small boat. You look over the passengers that go aboard yourself. Don't trust any of your men for that, because he may try to slip up like a woman. You understand—there's only one ship in port, and he mustn't get away."

As the morning wore by with no
news of the lawyer, McNamara's impatience grew. At noon the marshal returned with a report that the passengers were all aboard and the ship
about to clear.

"By heavens! He's slipped through you," stormed the politician.

"No he hasn't. He may be hidden aboard somewhere among the coal tanks, but I think he's still ashore
and aiming to make a quick run before she sails. He hasn't left the beach since daylight, that's sure. I'm going out to the ship now with four men and search her again. If we don't bring him off, you can bet he's lying out somewhere in town, and we'll get him later. I've stationed men along the shore for two miles."

"I won't have him get away. If he should reach Frisco—Tell your men I'll give $500 to the one that finds
him."

Three hours later Voorhees returned.
"She sailed without him."
The politician cursed. "I don't believe it. He tricked you. I know he did."

Glenister grinned into a half eaten sandwich, then turned upon his back and lay this on the plank, identifying

He kept his post all day. Later in

"So he got away, eh?" he began. "I was afraid he would. Smart fellow, that Wheaton."

"He didn't get away," said McNamara. "He's in town yet. Just let me land him in jail on some excuse. I'll hold him till snow flies." Strive said, into a chair and lit a cigarette with wavering hand.
"This is a hell of a game, isn't it, Mac? If you expose we'll win?"
The man overhead pricked up his ears.

"Win? Aren't we winning? What do you call this? I only hope we can lay hands on Wheaton. He knows things. A little knowledge is a dangerous thing, but more is worse. Lord!
If only I had a man for judge in place of Stillman! I don't know why I brought him."

"What's right, too weak. He hasn't got the backbone of an anglerworm.
He ain't half the man that his niece is.
There's a girl for you! Say, what'd
we do without her, eh? She's a pipkin!" Glenister felt a sudden tightening of every muscle. What right had that man's liquor-soaked lips to speak so of her?

"She's a brave little woman all right.
Just look how she worked Glenister and his fool partner. It took nerve to bring in those instructions of yours alone, and if it hadn't been for her we'd never have won this. If makes me laugh to think of those two men stowing her away in their stateroom while they slept between decks

with the sheep, and her with the passenger in her bosom all the time. 'Then,
why, she might talk them out of their possession of their mine without a fight. 'Thanks what I call reprehending
a man's affection."

Glenister's nails cut into his flesh,
while his face went livid at the words.
He could not grasp it at once. It made him sick—physically sick and for many moments he strove vainly to beat back the hideous suspicion, the horror that the lawyer had aroused.
This was not a doubting disposition, and
to him the old had seemed as one pure, mysterious, apart, angelically incapable of deceit. He had loved her, feeling that some day she would return his affection without fail. In her great, unclouded eyes he had found no lurking place for double dealing. Now—God!
It couldn't be that all the time she had known!

He had lost a part of the lawyer's speech, but peered through his observation hole again.

McNamara was at the window gazing out into the dark street, his back toward the lawyer, who lay in the chair, babbling ruminously of the girl.
Glenister ground his teeth, a frenzy possessed him to loose his anger, to rip through the frail ceiling with naked hands and fall vindictively upon the two men.

"She looked good to me the first time I saw her," continued Strive. He paused, and when he spoke again a change had come over his features.

"Say, I'm crazy about her, Mac. I tell you, I'm crazy—and she likes me.
—I know she does—or, anyway, she would."

"Do you mean that you're in love with her?" asked the man at the window without shifting his position. It seemed that after indifference was in his question, although when the light shone on his hands, right clenched behind his back, they were bloodless.

"Love her? Well—that depends—but you know how it is," he chuckled coarsely. His face was gross and bestial.
"I've got the judge where I want him, and I'll have her!"

His miserable words died with a gurgle,
for McNamara had silently leaped
him.

His miserable words died with a gurgle.

and throttled him where he sat, pinning him to the wall. Glenister saw the big politician shift his fingers slightly on Strive's throat and then drop his left hand to his side, holding his victim writhing and helpless with his right despite the man's frantic struggles. McNamara's head was thrust forward from his shoulders, beating into the lawyer's face. Strive was ineffectually at the iron arm which was squeezing his life out, while for endless minutes the other leaned his weight against him, his life hand behind his back, his legs braced like stone columns as he watched his victim's struggles die.

Strive fought and wrenched while his breath caught in his throat with horrid, sickening sounds, but gradually

his eyes rolled further and further back till they stared out of his blackened
sockets, straight up toward the ceiling, toward the hole through which Glenister peered. His struggles lessened, his chin sagged, and his tongue pressured, then he set his head back still.
The politician flung him out into the room
so that he fell heavily upon his face,
then stood watching him. Finally, Mc-Namara passed out of the watcher's vision, returning with a water bucket.
With his foot he rolled the motionless
wretch upon his back, then drenched
him. Replacing the pail, he seated himself, lit a cigar and watched the return of life into his victim. He made no move, even to drag him from the pool in which he lay.

Strive groaned and shuddered, twisted to his side, and at last sat up weakly. In his eyes there was now a great terror, while in place of his drunken ness was only fear and faintness—abject fear of the great bulk that sat and smoked and stared at him so fishily.
He felt uncertainty of his throat and groaned again.

"Why did you do that?" he whispered, but the other made no sign. He tried to rise, but his knees relaxed.
He staggered and fell. At last he gained his feet and made for the door.
Then, when his hand was on the knob,
McNamara spoke through his teeth,
without removing his cigar.

"Don't ever talk about her again.
She is going to marry me."

When he was alone, he looked curiously up at the ceiling over his head.
"The rats are thick in this shark," he mused. "Seems to me I heard a whole swarm of them."

A few moments later a figure crept through the hole in the roof of the house next door and thence down into the street. A black ahead was the slow moving form of Attorney Strive.
Had a stranger met them both he would not have known which of the two had felt at his throat the clutch of a stranger, for each was drawn and languid and awayed as he went.

Glenister unconsciously turned toward his cabin, but at leaving the lighted streets the thought of its darkness and silence made him shudder.
Now! He could not bear that stillness and the company of his thoughts.
He dared not be alone. Dexterity would be down upon him, and he too,
must get into the light and turn him.
He flicked his lips and found that they were cracked and dry.

At rare intervals during the past years he had staggered in from a long march where for hours he had waded a bitter war with cold and hunger. His limbs clumsy with fatigue, his garments wet and stiff, his mind slack and sullen. At such extreme seasons he had felt a consuming thirst, a thirst which burned and scorched until his very bones cried out feverishly—not a thirst for water or a thirst which even sipping could quench, but a savage yearning of his whole exhausted system for some stimulant, for some cooling, very dull that would burn and strangely, a thirst for whisky, for brandy. Remembering these occasional of ferocious desires, he had become charitable to such unfortunate temptations.

Now with a shock he caught himself in the grip of a thirst as intense as though the cold bars down and the weariness of endless heavy miles wrapped him about. It was no foolish wish to drown his thoughts or to banish
the grief that preyed upon him, but only thirst, thirst a crying, trembling, physical lust to quench the fire that burned inside. He remembered that it had been more than a year since he had tasted whisky. Now the fever of the past few hours had parched his every throat.

As he slipped in through the crowd
at the Northern base next him under again at the bar, for there recognized the lawyer that years thus from men's faces. Their manner recalled Glenister to his senses, and he wrenched himself away. This was not some solitary, snare-laden roadhouse. He would not stand and seek himself
shoulder to shoulder with staved and longshoremen. This was something to be done in secret. He had no right in it. The man on his right raised a glass, and the young man strangled a malediction to bear it from his hands. Instead, he hurried back to the theater and up to a box, where he drew the curtains.

"Whisky?" he said thickly to the waiter. "Bring it to me fast. Don't you hear? Whisky?"

Across the theater Cherry Malotte
had seen him enter and jerk the curtains together. She arose and went to him, entering without ceremony.

"What's the matter, boy?" she questioned.

"Ah, I'm glad you came. Talk to me."

"Thank you for your few well chosen remarks," she laughed. "Why don't you ask me to spring some good, old-fashioned jokes? You look like the finish to a six day go-as-you-please. What's up?"

She talked to him for a moment until the waiter entered. Then, when she saw what he bore, she snatched the glass from the tray and poured the whisky on the floor. Glenister was on his feet and had her by the wrist.

"What do you mean?" he said roughly. "It's whisky, boy," she cried, "and you don't drink!"

"Of course it's whisky! Bring me another!" he shouted at the attendant.

"What's the matter?" Cherry insisted. "I never saw you act so. You know you don't drink. I won't let you.
It's booze—booze, I tell you, fit for fools
and braveries. Don't drink it, boy.
Are you in trouble?"

"I say I'm thirsty—and I will have it!
How do you know what it is to smolder
inside and feel your veins burn dry?"
"It's something about that girl," the woman said, with quiet conviction.
"She's double crossed you."

PICTURE OF GEN. ROBT. E. LEE

Holds Place of Honor in President Roosevelt's Library.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—President Roosevelt has received from one of his military aides, Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, a present which he values as highly as to make of it an exhibit in his library at the white house. It is a letter from Gen. Robert E. Lee to the captain's father, Gen. Fitzhugh Lee.
Accompanying the letter is a fine photograph of the Confederate general-in-chief.

The letter and picture are framed together and are placed close above his desk, with other historic bits of manuscript from famous Americans including letters in the hand writing of Washington, Lincoln, Jackson and other presidents in the white house. The only other picture near these exhibits is of the president's uncle, another Confederate, Lieut. Bullock, who served on the C. S. A. cruiser "Alabama."

WILL BE DISTRIBUTED.

Treasurer Was Mentally Incompetent
When He Made Will.

Rochester, Jan. 29.—The $100,000
estate of Captain Hooker, who left a will bequeathing his property to Galesburg, Ill., and appointing President Roosevelt executor will be distributed. The surrogate of Monroe county having denied probate to the will on the ground that Hooker was mentally incompetent. Roland M.
Kendrick has been appointed administrator. There are thirteen heirs at law.

Wealthy Farmer Smiles.

Missouri Valley, Ia., Jan. 30.—Ray
Swan, a wealthy farmer near here, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor today. Swan is believed to have been temporarily deranged as a result of brooding over business matters.

CHARGES ARE REJECTED.

That Spanish Laborers on Panama
Canal Were Mis-treated.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Charges made in Spanish sources several months ago alleging unsatisfactory treatment of Spanish laborers at work on the Panama canal were completely refuted
through an investigation recently made by a committee representing the Gallego society of Havana.

They were given full opportunity to inspect the work on the canal and especially the treatment of Spanish laborers. Previous to their departure for Havana, according to a current issue of the Canal Record, they expressed themselves as eminently satisfied with the conditions of the laborers on the isthmus, saying nothing better could be desired.

HUGHES IS INDORSED

For Presidency by Republican County
Committee of New York.

New York, Jan. 20.—Governor Charles E. Hughes was strongly indorsed for the Republican nomination for the presidency, and the administration of President Roosevelt was commended in a resolution unanimously adopted by the Republican county committee at a meeting in the Murry Hill lyceum last night. The resolution further favored an instructed delegation to the Chicago convention from this state for Governor Hughes, which shall use all honorable means to obtain his nomination till he is either nominated or directs the withdrawal of his name from the consid-

GRAND CHAPLAIN OF THE

SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 29.—The Rev. John W. Venable, for many years pastor of Grace Episcopal church here, and for forty years holding the position as sovereign grand chaplain of the Odd Fellows lodge in the United States, died yesterday last.
September he fell and broke his hip.
He is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son. The burial took place here. Dr. Venable was born in Washington, D. C., in March, 1822.
He came to Kentucky in 1851. He joined the Odd Fellows lodge on the night of his twenty-first birthday and was always an enthusiastic member.
In 1867 he served as the Kentucky
representative of the sovereign grand lodge and the next year was appointed as sovereign grand chaplain.

PRINCE OF LITTLE DIES.

Count Leopold Assumed Regency of Country in 1901.

Hendelberg, Jan. 30.—Count Leopold, reigning prince of Lippe, died today. He was born on May 30, 1871, and was the son of the late
Count Ernst, of Lippe-Biesterfeld.
Count Leopold assumed the regency
in succession to his father September 27, 1901, but the right of succession was claimed by Prince George Schaum-burg-Lippe, and the dispute was settled by a judicial court at Lipsie december 25, 1905. The succession fell on the Lippe-Biesterfeld branch of the house of Lippe on the death of Prince Karl Alexander, January 13, 1905.

Wouldn't Endorse Bryan.

Boston, Jan. 30.—At a meeting of the Democratic state committee today a resolution endorsing William J.
Bryan as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency was offered. Several members spoke against its adoption and it was tabled
by almost a unanimous vote.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Teachers Entertained.

Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Carnegie entertained the teachers of the McKinley building and the teachers of the Washington building, who were unable to attend the previous dinner for the Washington school, with 6 o'clock dinner at their residence, 109 South Seventh street. Prof. and Mrs. Carnegie have entertained all of the teachers, and the dinners have been delightful features to bring the teachers together socially. In attendance last evening were: Misses Emma Morgan, Blanche Moody, Carrie Hylle, Anna Larkin, Catherine Powell, Floyd Swift and Mabel Mitchell.

Card Party to Visitor.

Miss Mamie Bauer will entertain at cards this evening at her home at Madison and Eighth streets.

Miss Epperheimer Complimented.

Last evening a few of Miss Mabel Epperheimer's friends pleasantly surprised her. Miss Epperheimer will leave Saturday to enter the St. Joseph Academy of Music, and the party was in farewell compliment. It was a pleasant occasion.

Mr. Ben L. Mathis to Marry in Illinois.

Invitations have been received here to the approaching marriage of Mr. Ben L. Mathis, formerly of this city but now of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Maud Beatrice Elder, of Hamilton, Ill. The wedding will take place Wednesday evening, February 12, at 8 o'clock at the Bethel Presbyterian church of Hamilton. The couple will be at home after March 1 at 1049 Meridian street, Nashville.

Mr. Mathis is popular in Paducah, where he lived for several years. He was first physical director of the local Y. M. C. A. and later was connected with the N. C. & St. L. road here. His headquarters were recently changed to Nashville. His fiancée is said to be a beautiful and attractive girl. The engagement is one of long standing.

Carpe Diem Club.

Miss Marie Roth is hostess to the Carpe Diem club this evening at her home on Madison boulevard. The club meeting was postponed from Tuesday evening.

Annual Parish Supper a Delightful Occasion.

The annual parish supper of Grace Episcopal church took place last night at the parish house and was a delightful social occasion. It was of more than usual interest and importance owing to the presence of the Right Reverend Charles E. Woodcock, bishop of the diocese, who was the guest of honor of the evening. Bishop Woodcock received in the upstairs parlor of the parish house before the supper was served, and occupied the place of honor at the principal table during the banquet.

The tables were arranged in the big hall of the parish house and were six in number. They were attractively appointed. The decorations were carnations and potted plants, carried out in silver-motif of red and green. A large silver chandelier with red candles formed the centerpiece of Bishop Woodcock's table, flanked by two tall vases of red carnations. Small candlesticks with red shaded candles were on the other tables. The music was a delightful and elaborate one, including lutes and cokes.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the after-dinner speeches, which were especially clever. Col. Q. Q. Quigley, who was to have spoken on "The Past of the Parish," was prevented by illness from attending, and his place was filled with an impromptu talk by the Rev. David Cady Wright, who made eloquent reference to Bishop Woodcock in connection with R. Mr. Charles K. Wheeler spoke on "The Present of the Parish," giving special emphasis to the splendid work done by Mr. Wright in its growth and upbuilding, and making complimentary reference to the three women's societies, the Friends, Recorders Aid and Grace Church Guild. The closing address was by Bishop Woodcock, who made a strong and forcible talk on the "Parish and the Diocese," and paying the highest tribute to Mr. Wright and his place in it. All of the speeches were especially happy and sparkling and abounded with humorous references to events, people and each other.

Misses Rosina Thomas and Isabel Thomas, of Athens, Ga., and Miss Elise Cronson, of Savannah, will arrive Saturday afternoon to visit Mrs. Will Bradshaw, Jr., on Broadway.

Mr. Ed Bringham is ill at his home on Kentucky avenue with the grip.

Miss Ethel Sights is sick at her home on Jefferson street from an attack of appendicitis.

Mr. M. B. Austin returned last night from Albuquerque, New Mexico. He was visiting his wife who is at that place for her health. Mr. Austin said his wife has not been sick a day since going to Albuquerque last November and is weighing more than she did before. Mrs. Austin will return home about next May.

Miss Cora Wood is confined to her home on Jackson street with grip.

Bishop Charles E. Woodcock returned to Louisville today, after a visit to Paducah and other west Kentucky parishes of his diocese.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner will leave in a few weeks for the new state of Oklahoma, where Mr. Gardner will seek a location. He is at present commissioner for the United States court.

Mr. Ellis Trautman is confined with fever at the residence of Mrs. Lou Herring on South Third street.

Miss Nettie Farnhaber, of Cairo, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Farnhaber.

Mr. W. J. Sheridan, of Halle, Tenn., has gone to Nashville, where he will attend the meeting of the grand lodge of Masons.

Mr. Oscar Hank has returned from Hopkinsville, where he went on a business trip.

Mr. Charles Meacham, of Delaney, who has been in the city visiting friends and relatives, while recuperating from his recent illness, left this afternoon for Hopkinsville for a visit before resuming his work.

Miss Helen Ellis is visiting Miss Emma Swoboda, at Cairo, Ill.

London Gets Decision.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 29.—Johnny Conlon, of Chicago, won the decision in a ten-round fight last night over Kid Murphy, of New York.

The police yesterday authorized the authorities at Cairo to release Frank Holland, a negro, who is wanted here on the charge of stealing a suit of clothes from George Bennett, clerk at the New Richmond house. The release was at the instance of Mr. Bennett.

REPORT THAT CHAS. HILL DIED AT HIS MURRAY HOME.

Friends in Paducah have received information that Charles L. Hill, a well known traveling man, died suddenly at his home at Murray last night. No particulars as to his death was given but it is supposed heart disease was the cause of the death. Mr. Hill formerly traveled for the wholesale dry goods house of Fels & Hubel, but recently had been with a Nashville shoe house. He was a son of the late Rev. J. R. Hill, a pioneer minister of the Christian church, and well known over West Kentucky.

Boyertown Arrest.

Boyertown, Pa., Jan. 30.—The jury investigating the fire at Rhoades opera house, in which 169 persons lost their lives, returned a verdict at 1 o'clock this (Thursday) morning. The verdict expresses the opinion that Mrs. Monroe, owner of the stereopticon machine, and Deputy Factory Inspector Hechtel "are largely responsible for the disaster on account of negligence and requests the prosecuting attorney to arrest, and, if possible, convict both of the charge of criminal negligence.

The five-months-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wallace, of 815 North Sixth street, died yesterday morning from infection. The funeral occurred this morning. The burial was in the family cemetery in this city.

TO PROTECT FORESTS
And Promote Establishment of Reserves Object of Convention.

Washington, Jan. 30.—That this nation has reached the point where it must decide whether it is to lose the use of the rivers in the east and the south through the non-preservation of forests, which safeguard the watersheds, was the declaration of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, president of the American Forestry association which convened here today. The secretary said that the rivers of the west were fairly well taken care of on account of forests. He expressed the hope that congress would take action to assure the beginning of the work of preservation of the forests and the safeguarding of the watersheds.

He expressed the hope that congress would take action to assure the beginning of the work of preservation of the forests and the safeguarding of the watersheds.

Other speakers are Clifford Pinchot, General Alfred Noble and John A. Walker.

One of the objects of the convention is to further the movement for the establishment of national forests in the White mountains and the Southern Appalachian range, a bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the creation of which is now pending in congress.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson was re-elected president. Otto Leubkert was elected treasurer.

CHARITY CLUB BUYING COAL FOR POOR PEOPLE.

The cold weather is keeping the Charity club and other charitable organizations busy. Many poor people have called for clothing and shoes. Coal has been demanded also.

The Charity club has distributed the coal donated by the Bernheim Bros., of Louisville, and now the club is buying coal to supply the demand, from the poor. The Elks have given the club 1,200 bushels, but officers have not made arrangements with the dealers yet, and the club will buy until Mr. Donovan secures the coal. This donation will carry the club through February.

NAVAL INQUIRY PROBABLE.

Reuter's article in the London Standard will be investigated by Senate.

Washington, Jan. 30.—That there will be an investigation of the circumstances attending the publication of the magazine article of Henry Reuter, the marine artist and member of the Naval Institute of the United States, in which he pointed out certain defects in the construction of American warships and attacked the bureau system of the navy, was the practical conclusion reached by members of the senate committee on naval affairs today. The matter came up informally, but the sentiment developed in the committee was favorable to holding the investigation and of summoning Rear Admiral Converse, president of the naval board on construction, and Rear Admiral Capps, chief of the bureau of construction and repairs. No definite action will be taken in the matter, however, until the receipt of data from the navy department.

SOUTH SIDE WORK WILL COMMENCE THIS SPRING.

As soon as the weather opens Mr. George Katterjohn, the contractor, will begin the construction of the combined sidewalk and gutter on Farley place, Tennessee street, Ohio street and South Eighth street between Washington and Tennessee streets.

The ordinances for the sidewalks on Farley place were passed early last summer and the contract let. A controversy arose over an error, and after it was decided, a new ordinance was passed, but by the time the contractor was awarded the contract the bad weather had begun. Residents on Farley place were anxious for the walks, but they had to plod through the mud this winter.

KENTUCKY CONGRESSMEN WORKING FOR RIVER BILL.

Mr. Saunders Fowler, as secretary of the Commercial club, received a letter from Congressman Ohio James stating that he and the other members from this state are doing all they possibly can to have the rivers and harbors bill passed. The next work will be done on the lower part of the river. This will be the beginning of deep water navigation and there will be a stage of never less than 20 feet at Paducah.

BOOK OF INFORMATION ABOUT SEWER DISTRICT.

A book of information about sewer district No. 2 is being compiled at the city engineer's office by Robert B. Richardson, assistant city engineer. The book will contain plans of each section of the district, and the owner of the property and the number of the page of the deed book at the court house. Also the connection, depth and all other information. It is a great improvement over the work of the sewer district No. 1.

NEWS OF COURTS

Circuit Court.

The suit of McArthur Bros. against the Illinois Central Railroad company for $187,000 damages which was to have been tried in circuit court today has been dismissed as settled. This suit involved the largest sum of money of any suit ever filed in the McCracken circuit court. The terms are said to be $75,000. McArthur Bros. were the contractors that built the roadbed for the Cairo cut-off and it was claimed that they were prevented from getting the work completed in time to secure a large bonus by the failure of the railroad company to deliver them supplies promptly, as was agreed in the contract. Attorney N. K. Griggs, of Lincoln, Neb., assisted the local attorneys, Hendrick, Miller & Marble.

All the cases on the docket for this term of court that require a jury having been disposed of, Judge Reed ordered the jury finally discharged this morning.

The suit of Minnie Burradel against the Paducah Traction company for $10,000 damages was compromised this morning by the Traction company paying the plaintiff $4,000. Miss Burradel was struck by a South Third street car several months ago and seriously injured.

The suit of Anthony Bacon against the McKinnle Veneer and Lumber company was dismissed without prejudice. Bacon was caught in some machinery and injured.

A motion and reasons for a new trial were filed in the case of Ed Alex. under against the Paducah Traction company.

Friedman, Keller & company filed suit against G. A. Chandler for $85.27 alleged to be due on account for merchandise furnished.

E. O. Thompson filed suit against Van Hurnett for $62.25. Thompson was surety on a note for Hurnett.

Mrs. Doshie Prentice filed a suit for divorce against Joe Prentice. They were married in Tennessee in 1883 and lived together until 1903, when the wife alleges she was abandoned by her husband.

Suits Filed.

A suit has been filed in circuit court by George Robertson, Sr., to compel the city of Paducah to pay its half of a judgment rendered in the circuit court against the city and Contractors Gardner and Robertson in favor of Miss Mary Lander for $750. The judgment was assigned to Mr. Robertson by Miss Lander and it is alleged that the city has failed to pay its part of the judgment.

Contractors Morgan and Horen filed suit against the Oak Grove Monumental works for $100, claimed to be due because the monument company failed to comply with a contract to furnish a stone to the contractors.

C. J. Roche & company filed suit against A. Pollock for $311, claimed to be due on an account for merchandise.

In Bankruptcy.

The creditors of the Southern Peanut company will meet February 15 to elect a trustee.

Mr. A. E. Boyd was appointed this morning receiver of the Southern Peanut company, and was directed to take charge of the estate and appraise the stock, consisting of stores, machinery and fixtures, and to furnish the court a list of the creditors. His bond of $10,000 was given.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON A SAFE HOME TREATMENT

In S. S. S. nature has provided a certain, safe, home cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It is a medicine made entirely of roots and herbs of recognized blood purifying value, and is the one medicine which is able to get down to the root of the trouble and remove every particle of the virus, and at the same time benefit and build up the system and general health. No harmful effects ever follow its use, as is so often the case when strong mineral medicines are used. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the disease begins to improve, and when the remedy has thoroughly purified the blood and driven out every trace of the poison, no signs of the trouble are ever seen again. The general manifestations of Contagious Blood Poison such as falling hair, copper-colored spots, ulcerated mouth and throat, sores and ulcers, etc., are merely symptoms of the poisoned condition of the blood, and in most cases respond quickly to local treatment, while S. S. S. is doing the necessary work of cleansing the blood. Our "Home Treatment" book is of great assistance along this line. It is a complete guide for treating the trouble, containing instructions for the different stages of the disease, and also valuable suggestions about the local treatment, that will be most helpful in effecting a cure. We will be glad to send a copy of this book, free of charge, to any who desire it, and if special medical advice is wanted our physicians will take pleasure in supplying it without cost to the patient. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison you can cure yourself in the privacy of your own home by the use of S. S. S., an absolutely safe remedy.

NO PRIMARY

FAYETTE DEMOCRATS MAY VOTE AGAINST BECKHAM.

Pollition Acquitted, Because No Valid Election Was Held Day of His Offense.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 29.—Circuit Judge Parker decided that the primary election held in this county in 1905 to decide the senatorial race between Beckham and McCrory was illegal, and that, therefore, although Messrs. Kaufman, who was indicted for marking the ballots of voters, had been proven to have marked thirty or forty ballots, he could not be punished, as the election itself was illegal.

After hearing the testimony for the prosecution, Commonwealth's Attorney John R. Allen said that the law required that at least twenty different posters should be placed at conspicuous points in each county announcing that a primary was to be held, but that he had conferred with both the local and state Democratic committees and they had admitted that no such posters had been put up. The court on this statement decided as the law had not been complied with a legal primary election had not been held and therefore the defendant could not be held accountable for his action. He, therefore, on motion of the defense, ordered peremptory instructions for the defendant, and a similar case against Fred Lazarus was also ordered dismissed.

The friends of Commonwealth's Attorney John R. Allen, who received three votes for senator today, are jubilant over this view of the matter, as it sets at naught the legislative backbone of Beckham, first to support the Lexington man.

GRAFT IN HORROR

BOYERTOWN OPERA HOUSE INSPECTED AND APPROVED.

On Condition That Owner Buy Fire Escapes From "Fighting Man"—Some Testimony.

Boyer-town, Pa., Jan. 29.—Suggestions of graft and subversion of neglect, which, it is believed may result in prosecutions, marked the opening session of the liquor here today in the horror of Rhode's opera-house on January 13, when 100 persons lost their lives.

It was brought out that the main exit to the hall was blocked by the box office, that the stairway and the point of exit and entrance were but 2 feet 1 inch in width; that Harry Fisher, the operator of the stage-lighting apparatus, had received only two days' instruction in the methods of handling the calcium light, and that he operated the machine in public for the first time on that fatal night.

In addition to this Dr. Thomas A. Rhoades, the owner of the building, declared that the building had been inspected and passed by a state factory inspector after he had given a contract for fire escapes to a leading man.

CAPTAINS

FOOTBALL TEAMS FOR 1908 HAVE ALL CHOSEN.

Most of Them Are Half Backs With Tackles Next—Henry Cave Fullback.

Halfbacks are in the majority for this year's golden commanders, with tackles in second place. None of the big five—Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Cornell—has a halfback, however. There is a noticeably large proportion of centers among the new captains. Henry Cave, son of the Rev. W. E. Cave, who is a Junior at Central university is one of the few captains playing fullback for 1908. The captains are:

Halfbacks—Pennsylvania State, McClary; Susquehanna, Meyers; Washington and Jefferson, Mayhew; Harvard, Hard; Lehigh, Spiers; Brown, Mayhew; Maine, Higgins; New Hampshire, Wilkins; Colby, Good; Tennessee, Lench; Stevens, Hendrick; Cincinnati, Potter; Trinity, Houshaw.

Tackles—Carlsle, Wausaka; Weymouth, Hammond; Harvard, Burr; Holy Cross, Briggs; Navy, Northcroft; Amherst, Kilbourne; Andover, Rosendale; Fordham, Fitzpatrick; Dickinson, Barry; Syracuse, Horst; Bowdoin, Comings; Georgia, De La Pierre.

Ends—Exeter, Thomas; Dartmouth, Kennedy; N. Y. U., Young; Yale, Hursh; North Carolina, Thomas; Georgetown, Miller; Massachusetts, Agiles, Turner.

Quarterbacks—Princeton, Dillon; Swathmore, O'Brien; Colgate, Whalen; Chicago, Steffen; Vanderbilt, Costen; St. John's, Bosley; Kansas, Augney; Georgia Tech., Roberts.

Centers—Michigan, Schulz; West Point, Philson; Virginia, Cloth; Bates, Cochran; Springfield Training School, Briggs; Williams, Morse; Grinnell, Illinois, Van Hook.

Fullbacks—Pennsylvania, Hollenback; Lafayette, Chalmers; Cornell, Walder; Sewanee, Markley; Central, Kentucky, Cave.

LYNCHING CERTAIN

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON MRS. FLOYD McELWAIN.

Youthful Bride of Todd County Farmer—Large Posses in Pursuit.

Elkton, Ky., Jan. 30.—An unsuccessful attempt to criminally assault Mrs. Floyd McElwain, the youthful bride of a well known farmer living six miles southwest of this place, was made at noon yesterday by David Kimbrough, a big negro who has been employed on a neighboring farm. In the struggle with her assailant Mrs. McElwain's face was cut and scratched and great bruises show where the negro's fingers closed about her throat as he attempted to strangle her.

Intense excitement prevails in that part of Todd county, and a large party headed by the sheriff is searching for Kimbrough. The negro was last seen going in the direction of Trenton.

GATLING GUN REMOVED.

Mayer Skoin Believes Danger of Attack Over.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 30.—The Gatling gun which for several weeks has been kept in the tobacco warehouse district to defend the buildings from night riders, was removed today to the Woodland reelhouse, fully a mile away. The crew of militiamen who, as deputy sheriffs, had charge of the gun and were paid by the city, have been dismissed, with the exception of one man, who will keep the gun in condition for service.

Not an Irishman.
The Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott's state ment before the Purple's Institute, "If I were not a Christian, I would want to be a Jew," was the subject of discussion at a Hungarian coffee house on the East Side. "It's very flattering to the Jews, I suppose," said an old man, "but it counts for nothing. An Austrian nobleman once made a big tour. At Prag he said that if he were not a Wiener he would like to be a Prager. He said the same thing with reference to Budapest and other places when he visited them. The various speeches pleased the hearers, but I prefer the Irishman's style."

"And what was that?" was asked. "He became well acquainted with a Frenchman, who said to him once: 'Pat, if I were not a Frenchman I'd be an Irishman. Now, if you were not an Irishman what would you like to be?'"

"Sure," said Pat, "if I were not Irish I'd be ashamed of myself."

An Old Man's Gratitude.
 Trudging along with the aid of a stout cane and bent with the age of three-score years and ten, a white-haired man carrying a basket laden with beautiful flowers made his way into the Pennsylvania hospital yesterday afternoon, and going to one of the wards on the second floor placed a bouquet on each one of the thirty-five beds, and after presenting each of the three nurses with a bunch of the flowers, made his way out of the institution.

Back of the ash lies an interesting story of gratitude and kind feeling which the aged visitor had manifested for the hospital for the past fifteen years. As the story is told by one of the nurses of the hospital, on November 17, 1892, the visitor's sister was taken ill and removed to the Pennsylvania hospital. She developed typhoid fever, and after many weeks of illness finally recovered. On the 13th of every November since the aged man, loaded down with flowers, makes a visit to the hospital and distributes bouquets in gratitude for the kind treatment and restoration to health of his sister. After placing the bouquets on the cots the old gentleman bows himself out and makes his way back to his home in Germantown.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Your daughter," said the jolly friend, "has such a comprehensive sweep upon the piano."
 "I wish," muttered the overworked mother, "she had the same about the house."

PURE FOOD LAW

ALONG LINES OF NATIONAL LAW IN KENTUCKY SENATE.

House Committee on Morality Reports Favorably on Wagoner County Bill.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—Senator Bosworth has introduced a pure food bill along the lines of the national law.

Following are the amendments to the county unit law, proposed in the Wagoner bill, favorably reported by the house committee on public morals:

An Act to amend Chapter 21, of the Acts of 1906, entitled: "An Act to amend Section 2560 of the Kentucky Statutes, it being a portion of Article 1 of Chapter 81, of the Kentucky Statutes, entitled: "Liquors, Intoxicating."

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

That Chapter 21 of the Acts of 1906, entitled: "An Act to amend Section 2560 of the Kentucky Statutes, it being a portion of article 1, Chapter 81 of the Kentucky Statutes, entitled: "Liquors, Intoxicating," be and the same is hereby amended by striking from subsection "a" the following words:

"Except that sales of the first, second, third and fourth classes may hold an election on the same day on which an election for the entire county is held," so that said act as amended shall read as follows:

1. That Section 2560 of the Kentucky statutes, it being a portion of article 1, of chapter 81, of the Kentucky statutes, entitled: "Liquors, Intoxicating," be and the same is hereby repealed, and in lieu thereof it is hereby enacted:

"A. No election in any town, city, district or precinct of a county, shall be held under this article, on the same day on which an election for the entire county is held. When an election is held in an entire county and a majority of the legal votes cast at said election are against the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors, then it shall not be lawful to sell, barter or loan any such liquors in any portion of the county. If at such an election for the entire county the majority of the legal votes cast are in favor of the sale, barter or loan of any such liquors, such election shall not operate to make it legal to grant license to sell, barter or loan such liquors in any territorial division of such county from which the sale, barter or loan has been excluded by an election held under this article, or by special act, but the status of such territorial division shall remain as if no such election had been held.

"B. No election shall be held in any election precinct under this act on the same day on which an election is held for the district or city of which the precinct is a part. If at an election held for such entire district or city, the majority of legal votes cast shall be in favor of the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous, malt or other liquors, then the status in the several precincts thereof shall remain as it was before said election; but if the majority should be against the sale, then the sale, barter or loan of such liquors shall be unlawful in every portion of said district or city."

The real fight on the measure is expected in the senate, but as Lieutenant Governor Cox is known to be an out and out temperance advocate, it is expected by the friends of the bill that he will refer it to such a committee as will guarantee that it shall meet with no delays.

The one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Lewis, of St. John's, died last night of pneumonia. The funeral was held this afternoon at St. John's and burial at that place.

RAILROAD NOTES

The yard office of the Illinois Central Railroad company has been located at the scale house near the junction on a short distance from the old location at Eleventh street and Broadway, where the fire occurred a week ago.

Andrew Doup, a machinist, was injured yesterday by a flying bolt striking him on the nose, which was broken. The injury was treated at the hospital.

The number of patients dressed at the railroad hospital this month will be greatly in excess of any month last year, but the majority of the cases have been of a mild nature, bad colds and grip being the trouble in the majority.

More loaded cars have been received at the shops this week for repairs than during any week since December 1, and the indications are that if the full force is not worked Saturday a great many more men than is usually kept on days when the shops are shut down, will be required to handle the business this day.

The new cyclone fans have been connected to the shaying and dust conveyors in the mills and are working perfectly.

Foreman George Bennett, of the car repairing department, is still off duty on account of sickness.

Will Jones, a laborer in the freight yards, is sick of malaria.

A number of railroad shop employees and others who live on the south side, have organized a wrestling club and meets are held nightly at the cold storage warehouse in Mechanicsburg. Last night the contest was between D. Hargrove, a car painter, and Les Jones, a butcher, and the match was one of the best ever pulled off in the city, both men being athletes. The contest lasted about 20 minutes. Hargrove, succeeded in throwing his man, but lost the match by being unable to keep him down. Jones rolling Hargrove over and winning the match. For the present he has the club championship.

Hess Manley, a former resident of Memphis, was fatally injured at Harrisburg Tuesday by being run over by a Big Four train. He died a few hours after the accident. Manley lived in Missouri and had been in Harrisburg only a short while. He was a switchman for the Big Four railroad and was on his way to lunch at mid night when the accident occurred.—Globe Bulletin.

A New Fire-Escape.

A Swiss engineer has perfected a new fire-escape. It consists of a series of folding iron ladders attached to the window frames. Each ladder reaches from one window to the next one below it. By turning a crank on any door all the frames beneath are unfolded in less than a minute, and form a continuous means of descending to the ground.
